ALL CENTENARIANS TO HAVE SHREVEPORT DATE APRIL 29

Shreveport, La. -- Alumni, former students, and friends of Centenary College in Shreveport, La., have a date April 29, 1950 -- that's the word from alumni president John A. Dixon.

According to plans now being made, that Saturday -- April 29 -- will be "Alumni Day" on the Centenary campus. There will be open house parties on the campus -- at the various organizational houses -- at the new $1,000,000 Science Building.

There will also be a "big evening." College authorities are now dickering for a "big name" band, and it is expected that the name of the band will be announced by the first week of February. "What we are trying to do," the Alumni President stated, "is get a maroon circle on the calendars of all Centenarians for April 29. We want them to keep that date open."

"One of the big reasons old students like to return to the school," he stated, "is to see old friends and professors. We are going to try to contact as many of them as possible. We are hoping that this "big day" will get them all back together again. I want to see my old classmates, and I'm sure all the others do, too."

MAROON AND WHITE TO BE WEEKLY PUBLICATION OF ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Shreveport, La. -- The Maroon and White, the paper you are now reading, will be a weekly publication of the Centenary College Alumni Association henceforth, Dr. S. D. Morehead, treasurer of the college. stated today.

"The purpose of the publication," he said, "is to keep the alumni in contact with the school and with each other. Some weeks we may just run one item. Some weeks we may publish several sheets. We would like all alumni and former students to send us news bits each week -- new wives or husbands, new babies, new jobs, new addresses, new degrees, new honors, etc."

Dr. Morehead stated that the regular four-times-a-year "This Is Centenary" bulletin would continue to be printed, but that various alumni had expressed a desire to be kept in closer contact, and this was the college's attempt to fulfill that wish.

There Have Been Some Changes Made

Whether you're class of 1825 or 1949, you'll find there've been some changes made on the Centenary campus since that day 125 years ago -- or one year ago -- when you left the campus with that big "ex" before Centenary or that class of '? after your name.

Of course, the number one change has been the construction of the new $1,000,000 Science Building which will be in complete use at the start of the spring semester next week. Under its roof are being housed the departments of Biology, Geology, Chemistry, Physics, Mathematics, and Engineering. The Centenary Choir has its rehearsal hall on the top floor.

Perhaps you have already noticed the new entrance-way which was completed this fall. It was given by the John B. Atkins family and has been pictured in both the Shreveport papers and our own This Is Centenary.

The Home Economics Department has tripled its facilities for the coming semester. The former "department" is being remodeled into a Day Nursery for two to four year old Centenarians. The classrooms, food laboratories and clothing laboratories for the Home Makers will be in Jackson Hall. The "Old Deanery" on Sexton Road is being remodeled into a Home Ec. residence.

Jackson Hall has completely lost its scientific appearance. In addition to the Home Economics work there, the library is now housed on the entire third floor. Seminar rooms, reading rooms and adequate space for art exhibits now make the library one of the display spots of the campus. Don Brown's art studio and classes occupy a part of the second floor.

The Arts Building might really be called the Administration Building now unless one would care to consider administration an art. Here all the administrators have their offices and here is the first place to stop for information and assistance in renewing old friendships, getting that son and daughter or friend registered or finding a guide to show you about the campus.

"But that ain't all" --- Woodlawn Avenue has been paved; the sorority and fraternity houses have been relocated; a campus intimate theater has been started; the Centenary Playhouse has been air-conditioned ---

Changes--changes--changes. There've been plenty of 'em. These are all physical changes though. Dean Hardin is still here teaching. Doc Entrikin and Dr. Warters are still preparing students for medicine. Doc Morehead is still playing the trombone, but now in his new office as Treasurer of the College. So don't forget that date of April 29th. It's the old home with a new face, but it's still the old home.

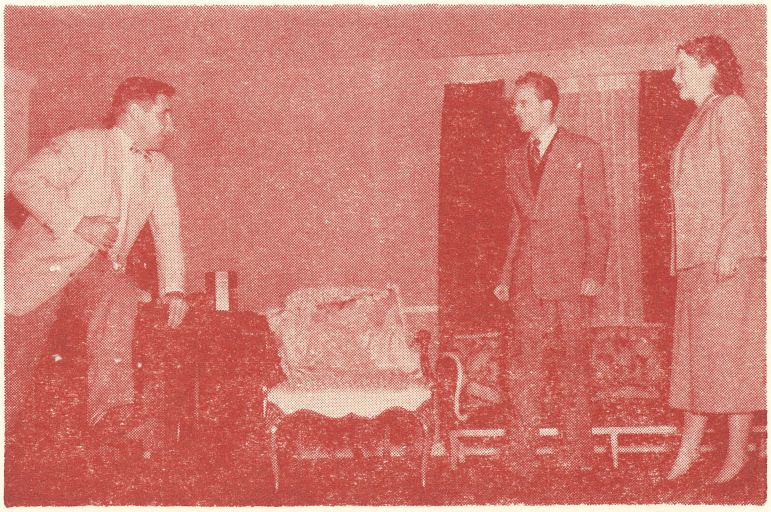
CENTENARY HOME ECONOMICS GROWS UP — AND OUT

Time was when the Centenary Home Economics department was a minor activity--but that time--as of this spring semester--is gone forever. Expansion and development are the words that best describe what is happening to the Centenary homemakers.

Way back in 1949, the Home Economics department was housed in a small five-room frame building. Here were the food & clothing laboratories, the classrooms, & the offices.



Alexandria Alumni Take Note: A dozen of "next year's crop of alumni" are headed your way — February 9 — with the three-act "It Pays to Advertise."

As of 1950, however, the department has more than tripled its size. The food laboratories are now in Jackson Hall, where a complete six-unit kitchen has been set up. The clothing laboratories now have a space about equal to the former total space allotted the entire department. That, too, is in Jackson Hall. The classrooms, other laboratories, offices, and a combined art-home economics reception hall complete the Jackson Hall--located Home Economics expansions.

The former Home Economics quarters are still being used -- but now as a Day Nursery, offering a complete program in child care and guidance both as a practical service to Shreveport parents and as a training service to Shreveport coeds. In the Nursery are games, gym equipment, and morning-nap beds.

One of the biggest of the many changes is the new Home Residence House. The "old deanery" has been converted for the model house, and the new improvements are being made there as this letter is being written. The house is the largest living unit on the campus, with the exception of the dormitories; and henceforth six coeds will live there for nine-week periods while they learn the "do's" and "do not's" of good housekeeping. All in all, the Home Economics department is making itself one more place for you to see on that April 29 "Return to the Campus" Day.

Annual "Religious Emphasis Week" February 13-17

No new trend in college activities, but still one of the most important single events of the year is "Religious Emphasis Week," to be held at Centenary, February 13-17.

Rev. D. L. Dykes, pastor of the University Methodist Church, Fayetteville, Ark., will be the principal speaker.

Mr. Dykes is no newcomer to Centenary alumni and Shreveport citizens. He took his B. A. here in 1938 and then went to Southern Methodist University for his bachelor of divinity degree.

For two years -- 1946 - 1948 -- he was assistant pastor of the First Methodist Church in Shreveport. During his second full year in Shreveport he was named by the local Junior Chamber of Commerce as "Young Man of the Year."

During the five-day week, three chapel services are planned for 10 o'clock on the mornings of Monday - the 13th; Wednesday - the 15th; and Friday - the 17th. In addition to these regular chapel services, informal meetings will be held with student groups.

Additional hours have been set aside for personal conferences with Mr. Dykes. Requests for these interviews are made through the Deans of Students offices. Plans for the week have been made and are being carried out by a student committee, composed of the fifty campus leaders who hold top offices in the student activity organizations.

Now -- as ever -- Centenary places great emphasis upon the development of Christian character. The "Committee of Fifty," the faculty and administration, and the Alumni Association join in urging alumni and former students of the college to try to get back to the campus for at least one meeting during the week.

Perhaps you remember what this "Week" meant to you then -- and now. Bring a new luster to that memory with a visit.

Art Department Gets Beautiful New Studio

After years in the cramped classrooms of South Hall, the Centenary Art Department has moved into spacious, beautiful and well lighted quarters in Jackson Hall, taking over the former science library, which has been moved to the new science building. Art lectures are to be given in room 23, just adjacent to the studio. Room 23 is arranged for quick conversion into a dark room for picture projection, and just as quickly back to a day-lighted classroom.

Equipment and space are now available in the big studio for all the varied activities of the art department to be carried on simultaneously without crowding. In one corner, equipment for wood carving and sculpture has been provided. In another, the etching press has been set up ready for action and in another corner stands the lithograph press. Easels and drawing boards occupy the main area.

Concentration of such varied activities in the same studio is considered one of the best and most modern methods of art instruction, the beginning students having the advantage of learning working methods from the more advanced ones, and all of them having opportunities to try their hands at new media such as etching, lithography, caseine tempera, wood and stone carving, etc.

The old Art Department of Centenary is looking up and an increase of twenty per cent in student enrollment in the spring semester over that of the fall has already been noted. Alumni who studied art in the old days at South Hall are especially urged to visit the new Art Department and be dazzled. Don Brown, art instructor, has planned several major exhibitions of paintings for the spring semester. The biggest one of all is to be held in connection with the April 29th "Return to the Campus" Day with works by important local and national painters.

CENTENARY TO DOUBLE SCHOLARSHIP GRANTS AS PART OF 125th YEAR CELEBRATION

Scholarship grants will be doubled by Centenary College this year as a part of its 125th year of "greater service" program -- that is the word this week from Dr. S. D. Morehead, assistant to the president.

The College now offers two types of scholarships--each worth $165. One type goes to ministers in all of the churches of the Centenary area. Each minister receives one of these "grants-in-aids" to be given to one of the members of his congregation.

The second type of scholarship -- for academic success in high school -- goes to high school principals to be awarded to the highest ranking graduate.

"In honor of the 125th year, we are going to raise our scholarships to $125.00 a year -- for two years, a $250.00 total -- and we are going to increase the number being sent out," Dr. Morehead stated.

To the high schools in the Centenary area -- Louisiana, Texas, and Arkansas -- will go this year two grants to be awarded by the principal -- one for the student maintaining the highest grade average and one to a "needy" student who meets our entrance requirements.

The number of grants to be sent to each minister is also being doubled. Two -- instead of one grant-in-aid -- are being sent to each minister, and "he may award these as he sees the need."

CENTENARY HOLDS SOUTHWEST REGIONAL INTERNATIONAL CLUBS MEET MARCH 2-4

"Between 500 and 700 students from 68 IRC groups from as many college and university compuses in the Southwest area will be on the Centenary College campus, March 2 - 4, for a three-day International Clubs meeting," Professor M. G. Cox, assistant professor of history and government and sponsor of the Centenary organization, stated.

"Big name" speakers will be one of the features of the conference. Already scheduled to give addresses are Dr. John Rydjord, chairman of the department of history and dean of the graduate division of the University of Wichita; Dr. Ferdinand Stone, professor of international law, Tulane University of Louisiana; and, Clarence Streit, president of the Federal Union, Inc., and an authority on world federalism.

Another top speaker — Dr. Eric Baker, secretary of the Education Committee of the Methodist Church of Great Britain — will speak for the IRClub members and then remain on the Centenary campus for a three-day discussion-visit with the student body.

Student-participation — both in international discussions and in entertainment — will be another feature of the three-day meet. In addition to serving on panels and leading discussions, students from the 68 colleges will be reading papers in a tri-topic contest on subjects dealing with the atomic bomb, Asia, and the cold war. One of next year's alumni—F. O. Didier—is regional president of the 68-school organization and will preside at the meetings.

Student entertainers in drama, in music, in choral groups, and in variety shows are also scheduled to give the visitors some long and short glimpses of Centenarians' talents. Set for the first night is a double-play theater showing, "A Night of Shaw." On March 3 Centenary musicians and a talent show are scheduled for the IRC ball at the Washington-Youree Hotel, and on the morning of the Friday meeting, the famed, far-traveling Centenary Choir is scheduled for an hour's program.

Centenary alumni and their friends are invited to attend all of the meetings on the campus. The meetings start Thursday, March 2, and last through noon of Saturday, March 5.

College Expands Program of Services For Potential Centenary Students

Since 1945, Centenary College has been in the midst of the biggest growing period in its history. During the last half a decade, the enrollment for the college has more than doubled itself — bringing new opportunities and new problems to the Shreveport school.

Chief among its problems this year has been the maintaining of a high enrollment in the face of an ever-decreasing veteran enrollment and a change in the Louisiana high school program which has taken serious cuts in the incoming freshman totals.

To make Centenary known to high school seniors considering college, groups of Centenary faculty, alumni, and administration have been working on a long-range program of "student cultivation." Although one of the principal purposes of the program has been to bring students to Centenary, the program is essentially one of aiding high school students in selecting a career for the future — whether that career includes Centenary or not.

Dr. S. D. Morehead said of it, "We, of course, are in the education business, and we want our share of the students. The program, however, has as its principal aim not the flooding of the campus with students but rather the aiding of those high school students in the college's sphere of influence."

This year — among other things — the college has opened a free testing service, a service designed to help high school seniors decide if they should go to college — and if so what they should study there. Every week Centenary professors and counselors go out to the high schools and civic clubs to speak on careers for the future and preparation for those careers. The college has employed a number of regional representatives on a part-time basis to serve as "information centers" for high school students in their areas who want to know more about college — and about Centenary. The students of the college have volunteered their services as teams and as individuals to spread the word "for education and for Centenary." Each week teams go to the communities in the Ark-La-Tex area to do public services and remind the people that we have a college ready to serve them. A Speakers Bureau is being run by the college that supplies speakers for all occasions—plays, and musical entertainment for organizations and schools in the area. The Centenary Choir has made more than a dozen trips since the beginning of the current semester.

Centenary alumni each day have been writing to the college suggesting high school students whom they would like to see one day become members of the Alumni Association. The college is on the march — its students, its faculty, its administration, its alumni.

SHREVEPORT AND CENTENARY START "ON WAY" TO LEAD SOUTHWEST AS STUDENT DRAMA CENTER

Shreveport, Louisiana, and Centenary College are on the way toward becoming one of the Southwest's best training centers for students interested in drama — if plans being formulated by the newly organized Shreveport Drama Federation and the college's speech and drama department are successful.

In December, 1949, John Wray Young, director of the Shreveport Little Theater, invited directors and members of Shreveport's twelve theater groups to his Margaret Place Theater for discussion of ways and means to make drama work in Shreveport bigger and better.

From this beginning, a Federation of the city's twelve groups is being formed which may mean more and better theater for Shreveport and more drama opportunities for Centenary students planning careers in professional, academic, or community theater.

Already suggested by one of the city's theater directors —Joseph Sullivan of the Catholic Drama League — is a "theater pool." If this becomes a reality, students studying drama at Centenary will have an opportunity to learn acting, stagecraft, and direction — not from a department of six or eight professors — but from a Federation of twelve theaters. Last month some action in this direction was already taken by one of the city's top directors, Miss Betty Blanchard, at the Courtyard Players' intimate theater, when Isa May Cohen, a Centenary drama freshman, was given the title lead in O'Neill's Anna Christie.

Chief among drama opportunities will still be the campus Playhouse, directed by a man with over 30 years of professional and academic experience — Joseph Gifford. The Playhouse serves as a college theater during the September-to-May season, and then in the summer months it becomes a civic summer theater. Next year, Mr. Gifford hopes to have six plays on the boards during the college season. Each of these plays will run a week, and then some of them will be taken on the road for production in nearby high schools and community centers.

On the "added" list for the 1950-51 year will be a campus "Intimate Theater," which is being set-up next door to the Playhouse to do classic and experimental drama. The intimate theater will play to audiences of 50 or less for three-night runs, and the fare here will be the standard classics from the Greeks to Goldsmith, and experimental and "locally written" new plays. This theater — through a class laboratory — conducted by Paul Nolan, instructor in English and Publicity Director, will do six plays a year, and all of these plays will be taken to high schools to give Ark-La-Tex students an opportunity to become familiar with the world's "greats."

Program For Education Day April 28 Alumni Will Elect Officers April 29

Nearly complete plans for Education Day, April 28, and Alumni Day, April 29, were announced this week by Dr. S. D. Morehead, coordinator for the Centenary 125th Birthday four-day party. "Details for Church Day, April 30, and Founders' Day, May 1, will be announced next week," he stated.

"Big name" attraction for Education Day—Friday—is Bishop Paul Bentley Kern, who has degrees from Randolph Macon, Vanderbilt University, Duke University, Emory University, Ohio Wesleyan, and Willamette University. Since his ordination as a Methodist minister in 1902, Bishop Kern has been constantly active in religious education work.

He has served as pastor of churches in Tennessee and Texas, was a professor and later a lecturer at Vanderbilt, Southern Methodist University, and Emory University, and served for eight years as a bishop to the Orient before being assigned in charge of the conferences in Tennessee in 1938.

He is the founder of the Summer Conference for Christian Workers in Ovoca, Tennessee; and he is a Phi Bata Kappa Member. Among his books are A Methodist Church and Its Work, 1919; The Miracle of theGalilean, 1930; The Basic Beliefs of Jesus, 1935; and Methodism Has a Message, 1941.

Bishop Kern will speak at the Friday, April 28, convocation in the Physical Education building, scheduled for 10:00 a.m., which will open the four-day celebration.

Volume I, Number 12

An Open Letter To Every Member of the Alumni Association:

Dear Centenarian,

It's less than a month now to Alumni Day, April 29, and we thought we would just drop a line to let you know some of the new things that are happening around here to make April 29 "a day to remember and be remembered." You remember, of course, the general details of the four-day 125th Birthday Party that your school is planning, but here are some new things that you might not know.

We expect that well over 3,000 Centenarians will be around to celebrate the day. Nancy Steele, Houston, Tex., writes that "...have started a 'Gent Roundup' here in Houston. As of now, there will be two cars coming." Charles Williams of Many, La., writes, "...at least one car load will be at the Homecoming, April 29." Mrs. T. A. Brown, Barcelona, Venezuela, writes, "I'll be there for Homecoming on April 29, with bells on, filled with glee over continuing to witness many more successes of dear ole Centenary, seeing old friends and meeting new lovers of 'The Moroon and White.'"

Education Day — Friday, April 28

10 a.m. Convocation in Centenary Gym
Bishop Paul B. Kern Speaker

5 p.m. Shreveport - Oklahoma City Baseball Game.
Kilgore Rangerettes will perform.

8 p.m. Dr. I. Q. and Centenary Choir at Municipal Auditorium.

Alumni Day — Saturday, April 29

9 a.m. — 5 p.m. — Registration in S. U. B. Open Houses, Tours, Refreshments.

1:30 p.m. Election of officers.

2 p.m. Induction into Alumni Association of class of '50.

8 p.m. — midnight — Jimmie Dorsey and his band for Centenary grads, former students, and present students. (No admission charge.)

Oh, by the way, Bring the Baby! We have arranged with the Centenary Home Economics department to take care of baby sitting on Saturday night from 7:30 until Midnight.

In case it slipped our mind, the dance is INFORMAL. No tuxs, no tails, no evening dresses.

Every day we get stacks of letters saying some of you will be here April 29. One of the big reasons for the splendid response is the "Key Person" who has been appointed in most towns and in each occupational group in Shreveport. Key persons are contacting all grads and former students. They're really coming home for Homecoming. If no one has contacted you, you need a "key person" there, so become it.

John Dixon, this year's prexy, told us to be sure to urge all of the members of the Association to turn out for the 1950-51 elections. John says that although a full ballot has been nominated, he'd like to see some scrapping for office this year.

Well, these are just a few of the things I wanted to write about. Be sure and come April 29 — and bring the family.

Your friend,

The Gent

Sharon Miracle carried the big bass drum? . . . The ten-inch snow fell in 1948? . . . Centenary had an academy? . . . Mr. Quattlebaum brought down the house? . . . "No matter where you reside, we want you to live near to Centenary.
No matter where you reside, we want Centenary to live near to you."

• Well, the meeting's over, but the memory will linger on for a long, long time. The weather man threatened us during the morning, but at eleven o'clock Brother Riggs prophesied "no rain" so we set up in the open-air theater.

• At the alumni meeting we had brief talks by Dr. Paine—'82, Dr. Scales—'92, and Brother Riggs—'99. These three have been out of Centenary a total of 177 years.

• The gymnasium was decorated with 400 balloons and a few tons of crepe paper. Jimmy Dorsey played while some danced, others listened, and still others in small groups recalled the old days — 1880's or 90's or 1920's, 30's and 40's. We're so sorry if you were unable to be here.

• Everybody, almost, is talking about next year's HOMECOMING. Thanks! for mailing the card.

• Bill Grabill—'34, took some good pictures. We plan to run one or two in each Newsletter for a while.

ALUMS MEET, GREET, EAT, BEAT FEET, BUY SEATS

Soon after April 29 several alums got together and said: "Why don't we get some comfortable upholstered theater-style seats for the lecture hall in the New Science Building?"

We sent for samples and the one everybody liked best costs $24 installed. The chair has a steel framework, a mohair and rubber back, a plastic covered soft seat, and a tablet-arm which can be raised and lowered.

Just to see how the idea appealed to others, we telephoned a few alums that afternoon. Everyone took one or more chairs.

On the arm of each chair will be a metal plate with a two-line inscription (as you direct) such as:

JOHN J. SMITH Class of 1937	IN MEMORY OF JOHN J. SMITH - '37

With the installation of these chairs the lecture hall will be one of the nicest meeting places in Shreveport — for students, faculty, alumni, civic groups, and others.

The 1950 graduating class gave us 7½ chairs. Individuals have given from 1 to 5 chairs each.

IF YOU WANT TO contribute a WHOLE chair or a PART of a chair send your check to the Alumni Foundation of Centenary College (tax deductible) for any amount.

CHAIRS PURCHASED WITH GIFTS OF LESS THAN $24.00 WILL BE INSCRIBED SOMETHING LIKE THIS:

TO CENTENARY STUDENTS WHO GAVE THEIR LIVES IN WAR

Do you have a better suggestion, or different wording? WE MUST PLACE THE ORDER IN JUNE. The auditorium will hold 160 odd chairs and already we have sold more than 125.

* * * * * * * *

We've had many nice letters about Homecoming. Soon we shall tell you about some of the goings-on at Centenary this summer.

1950 ALUMNI PROJECT OVER THE TOP

Chair Project Conceived April 29, Completed June 29

The chairs have been ordered! They should be ready for you to see and try by September 1.

The chairs are green and tan — just the colors of the lecture hall. The back is green, the seat is tan, and the trim is tan and green. What wonderful sleeping is in store for 1950-51 students!

We have enough money to pay for all the chairs. However, we will accept contributions to the chair fund through July 15. We must order the name plates on July 16.

We can place your name or a name designated by you on as many as 14 chairs. The foundation purchased 14 chairs and these could be "name-plated," and the foundation funds kept intact.

Contributions of less than $24 will be used to honor Centenary students who lost their lives in Wars of the past.

The alumni officers, the alumni foundation officers, the directors and the alums — graduates and former students — all need to congratulate each other for a splendid job — well done — and in a hurry.

- Centenary's summer session is well under way with more than 700 future alums attending. The 46 men and women from South America have added quite a bit of color to the campus.

- Twenty-five percent of the 1949 graduating class is in graduate school in such universities as Duke, S. M. U., Tulane, Washington State College, Boston University, Columbia University, U. C. L. A., University of Oklahoma, L. S. U., University of Texas, University of Illinois, University of Minnesota, University of Colorado, Northwestern University, — enrolled for Theology, Law, Psychology, Voice, English, History, Medicine, Mathematics, Chemistry, Accounting, Commerce, Dentistry, Geology, Economics, Physical Education. Centenary's credits must be good!

- Dr. Leroy Vogel, history professor, is returning after Centenary loaned him to the Government for three years' work in Germany.

- Looks like an improved basketball team for '50 - '51 . . . A good many alums are "cashing in" their two free meals at our cafeteria. Keep coming back to the campus . . .

- Charles Laughton is scheduled to be at Centenary on December 5 at 10 a. m. . . .

JIMMIE SERRA, President of the Alumni Foundation, says: "To raise more than $4,000 in 60 days is really SOMETHING!! — but, the Centenary alumni did just that. Congratulations!"

Volume II, Number 1

● WELL — school has started again—Freshman caps, lines at the bookstore, pledge pins, enthusiasm — the usual registration day rain — good meals at the cafeteria, drops and adds, crowds in the SUB, lectures, assignments, labs, rehearsals, dates!

● ENROLLMENT figures show an increase in non-veteran students and a decrease in veterans. The largest freshman class in some time boasts many valedictorians from near and far.

● Cheesy's CHOIR prospects are good. Bill Causey has several new BAND members. Buss Delaney's BASKETBALL team looks good already. Mr. Snider, the college cabinet maker, received this work order from Tom Richardson: Make 1 single bed, 8 feet long, two legs on each end, two legs in the middle to take a 7½ foot mattress and to support 235 pounds. Says Coach Delaney, "He is still a growing boy."

● Centenary may have an R. O. T. C. unit next September. At least an application has been filed for a Transportation Unit.

● The CHAIRS are due to arrive on October 15. About a half-dozen can be name-plated at $24 per. We are planning a big feed and a tryout of the chairs soon after they are installed.

● A GRANDSON is responsible for those big smiles on the faces of President and Mrs. Mickle. Mrs. Riddle has a full house at Colonial and Mrs. Row at Rotary. Both dormitories overflowed this year. Mrs. Dennis has a few vacancies in Vet. Dorm.

● Cheesy Voran is chairman of a committee to plan a Centenary exhibit for the STATE FAIR which opens on October 21. There will be a table where graduates and former students can register and get together. Centenary's exhibit will be located in the Manufacturers' building.

NOTICE

There were four men and three women present. One of the men was a preacher. It all happened in a little church around a corner. Since neither bride nor groom had living parents, it was considered fitting that the news be spread in this informal way:

Rita Marie Patricia Carlin

and

Eric James Devine

have been joined in what A. P. Herbert has called holy deadlock.

Temporarily at:
313 East 50th Street
New York 22, N. Y.

● Plans are under way for contacting PROSPECTIVE STUDENTS for next year. Alums did a good job this year in recommending Centenary. One alum says he already has 13 lined up for Centenary next fall. He sent us eight this past year. We do not know yet how many SONS and DAUGHTERS of alums are registered at Centenary, but we expect to publish such a list soon.

● On the flaps of this Newsletter you will find the DATES of some of the events already scheduled. We will try to keep you posted in advance on all major events in athletics, music, drama, etc.

● Your NOTES, news items, pictures, birth and marriage notices are appreciated. We will publish them all sooner or later.

51 - Happy New Year, Alums - 51

1950 was an eventful year at Centenary. The new Atkins entrance—the science building—the addressograph machine—AND HOMECOMING on April 29—more alums came home than, perhaps, in all previous years combined....from New York, New Jersey, Michigan, California....Venezuela they came...."Did you mail the card?"....meeting, greeting, eating. .slaps on the back....Dr. Payne, ...Dr. Scales, ...the old quartet, ...Brother Riggs....Jimmy Dorsey....election of officers ....ordering the chairs for the lecture hall....

1951, what do you have in store for us?....another homecoming?....Yes, no doubt, unless the world situation prevents it....DID YOU KNOW our newsletter goes to alums in almost every State and in many foreign countries?....dozens of alums have eaten those free meals in the cafeteria....many were guests at the Charles Laughton performance....Eleanor (Brown) Greve's little son has a sister with a December birth date....Martha Laird is now Mrs. Don Hensley....A Centenary basketball player (Harold Mooty) set a record for the Bradley University fieldhouse when he made 31 points....Johnny Carroll, Centenary alum (1933-1936), sponsored the broadcast of the Bradley game from Peoria, Illinois....Little Dickie Voran couldn't get his Christmas bike into his bed with him, but kept it close by....Cheesy, why don't you buy him a bigger bed?

EVERY STUDENT at Centenary is on scholarship....tuition charges do not pay the bill, and so income from endowment and gifts from alums and others make up the difference....Buddy Parker, Centenary alum, succeeds Bo McMillin as head coach of the Professional Detroit Lions football team....Mr. Frank Hemenway, Jr., President of Hemenway-Johnson Furniture Company, Inc., is Centenary's biggest alumni program booster and has been for several years....Centenary's faculty and staff go under the Social Security Program as of January 1, 1951....Two Centenary future alums represented the entire State of Louisiana in the final Rhodes Scholarship competition recently, Don Harbuck and Robert Regan....Johnny Baird, Hardy O'Neal, Edwin Whited and Jeanne Maynard paid the Alum Office a visit recently....John Hardin, Jr., has business which will keep him in Shreveport for some time.....Lt. Carl E. Jenkins, B. S. 1949, finished first in all departments in the entire class of 373 officers taking a special course recently at Quantico, Virginia....Centenary's home basketball games will be more enjoyable beginning January 4. You can now keep up to the second on the new electric scoreboard clock which was installed during the holidays.

HEY
The 5th of May
's Homecoming Day
So what do YOU say?

(You have nowhere to leave the children?)

We will provide you with free baby sitters.

(You can't afford it.)

Well, times are not too good, but you won't have to pay Centenary anything unless you buy a meal at the cafeteria.

(You just don't have a "thing to wear.")

Everything including the dance will be informal, and you'll look good to all your classmates and former teachers in your everyday attire.

(You don't know anyone at Centenary now.)

Well, you will enjoy meeting some new people and, besides, exes will be here from classes as far back as the 1880's.

(You just can't get off from work?)

Not even one Saturday, just once?

SOooo! We hope you can and will come. Dozens of people will spend scores of hours planning for YOU and homecoming day. What do you say?

The big-name orchestra has not been chosen. But a grand time is on the agenda for YOU on May 5.

* * * *

● The choir's going to Atlantic City this summer — Chicago, San Francisco, New York twice, and now Atlantic City....Dormitory reservations for next fall are coming in, especially girls....The chairs are due to arrive during the week of March 12....We will know on April 20 whether or not Centenary secures an Air ROTC Unit.

● Tom Richardson has been ordered by the Navy to Kodiak, Alaska — reports there in April.....Roscoe White, Jr. will barely miss homecoming but may be stationed near enough to fly in....Johnny Dawson buzzed the campus recently — before reporting to his carrier.... Johnny Baird's fishing luck has not been too good largely because they were biting the day before or the day after he went.

DIVIDENDS

Centenary is a corporation. It has a charter. It can sue and be sued. But did you know that Centenary pays DIVIDENDS?

Every student enrolled at Centenary is on scholarship. Since tuition charges are not sufficient to cover the expenses the difference must be made up by interest received on investments, and by gifts of graduates, ex-students, and other friends. These contributions pay the dividends through Centenary. (1) To the student who otherwise could not attend college, (2) to the donor in the satisfaction and joy of helping someone to attend college, and (3) to the college in making it able to enroll and train more worthy students.

● From fifty to one hundred students from South America will help swell our summer school enrollment....Holiday in Dixie runs from April 29 through Homecoming Day plus one.

● Education for Citizenship Day was a big success March 9. Former Governor Sam Jones, Secretary of State for Texas J. Ben Shepperd, and our own Dr. Leroy Vogel spoke on "Importance of Choosing a Vocation," "Responsibility and Duties of Citizenship," and "System of American Opportunity" to nearly 1,000 high school seniors from 25 schools. In the afternoon 32 prominent business men and women spoke on 29 specific vocations. Some of our prominent alums had a part in Citizenship Day.

● Cotton Robins, A. B. and B. S. '47, wife (Betty Jane Autrey, A. B. '44) and children will return to Shreveport come June where he will intern at Charity Hospital. Welcome back Doctor and congratulations....

TA/BAC*

The recent bequest of some two million dollars from Mr. W. A. Haynes to Centenary's endowment fund means an additional $50,000 to $100,000 annual income to the college forever.

Why not build a new building with the two million? This and other questions have been asked by many alums. The chief reason is that Mr. Haynes left this money to be used as endowment. In the box to the right we have tried to answer a few of the questions.

* * * *

- "Shreveport's Best Ad" during 1950 was Centenary College. The Shreveport Advertising Club a few days ago so designated Centenary in ceremonies at which President Mickle received on behalf of the college a beautiful bronze plaque....Among the reasons cited by the committee making the award—"distinctions earned by Centenary alumni throughout the country."

- W. D. Boddie, A. B., B. D., pastor of The Methodist Church, Springhill, La., was named "Young Man of the Year" for 1950 by the Springhill Junior Chamber of Commerce.

- Homecoming plans will be announced in the next newsletter.

- At long last came this telegram: "The chairs will be shipped April 2 or 3 sure."....J. D. Caruthers is a new member of the Board of Trustees of the College....Jane Ming and Tommy Ellis, 1951 alums, were married during the Easter holidays.....Remember April 29 last year? Well, this year it is the date when Lois Anne Higman becomes Mrs. John Henry Richardson....Burl Sullivan, B. S., M. S., is now district geologist with the Sunray Oil Company....Andy Foreman, A. B. 1948, will receive his B. D. degree from Emory University in June, 1951.... "We'll be there on May 5" wrote in D. B. Boddie, Clinton, La.; Zollie Bennett, Texarkana; Mrs. W. H. Bruce (Lorraine O'Roark), Catherine, Ala.; H. K. Marshall, New Orleans, La.; Mr. and Mrs. Bert Greve (Eleanor Brown) and children, Randy and Cam, Ann Arbor, Michigan.... The Louisiana Academy of Science held its 25th anniversary meeting on the campus April 6 and 7....Charlie Murrah, former alumni secretary, is now assistant manager of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of N. Y., Dallas, Texas....Katy Oxford (Mrs. W. B. Fulton) and young son visited the Alumni Office recently.

—Permanent Endowment?
—Living Endowment?
—Why Not a New Building?

One person gives the college a $1,000 government bond which pays $25 interest each year. The college keeps the bond and spends the interest. The $1,000 principal is never spent —but earns $25 a year indefinitely.

Another person cannot afford to give a $1,000 bond, but can give $25 a year.

The $1,000 bond is permanent endowment. The $25 annual gift is living endowment. Each gift provides the college with $25 a year to use to help pay expenses (no student pays the college in tuition as much as the college spends on him.)

Assuming the college can earn 2½% on the endowment, a gift of $25 a year is equivalent to interest on $1,000 — that is, you can give 40 times as much in the form of living endowment as in permanent endowment. BUT colleges need both types of gifts.

Why cannot the college take the $1,000 and use it for a building? (1) Every time we build a new building our upkeep expenses go up. So we really need a million in new permanent endowment or $25,000 in living endowment every time we get a new million dollar building. (2) Endowment results in income to the college whereas a new building results in additional expenses to the college. So—more buildings require more endowment.

An example (not too good, perhaps) is this. Give the college a hen (permanent endowment) and the college keeps the hen and uses the eggs. If you cannot afford to give a hen, then you give an egg each year (living endowment).

Give the college a hen house and the college has to get from somewhere else the money to pay the expenses of keeping up the house.

OH! ONE OF THOSE BAGLES HAS SQUIRTED MY HOSE AGAIN!
HE NEEDN'T GRIN— HE'S NEXT!
JUST THINK, SOME PEOPLE DON'T BELIEVE WE BAGLES EVEN EXIST!

Since the year many of you left Centenary the Campus has been invaded by BAGLES. They hide under the brick "walks" and squirt water on your ankles and in your shoes.

"To be concrete about it," say Edwin Whited and Hardy O'Neal, the newly elected presidents of the Alumni Association and Foundation, "the BAGLES may be in for some surprises."

Send all news for The Maroon and White to Dr. S. D. Morehead, Centenary College, Shreveport, Louisiana.

The AUGUST issue of This Is Centenary will be devoted largely to personals about you. Send us NOW news about you, your family, your job, children, etc.

The officers and directors of your Association and Foundation express sympathy to the families of Andy Strong, '49, and of Mrs. Mabel Campbell.

In this NEWSLETTER our attempt is to give you a few facts about Centenary as a business institution . . .

CENTENARY'S ASSETS will be 6⅓ million dollars when school opens in September — add $1,000 a day for 17 years and you have 6⅓ million . . . Centenary's monthly pay roll averages $1,000 a day — its weekly pay roll $1,000 a week . . . the operating account spends over a half-million dollars a year . . . the cafeteria and snack bar spend $100,000 a year . . . the "little" bookstore's sales average $5,000 a month . . . scholarship and loan funds total $90,000 . . . the cafeteria sells its garbage for $120 a year . . . the prize-winning pig at the FAIR three years ago was fattened on Centenary garbage . . . Centenary's milk bill is $1,000 a month . . . the electric bill $1,000 monthly . . . the science building cost $1,051,000 without equipment . . .

UNUSED CAPACITY — none. Classes begin at 7 a.m. and end at 10 p.m. or later . . . day, night, — 12 months a year . . . night janitors clean classrooms from midnight to daylight . . . day janitors from dawn to twilight . . . night school equals day school in enrollment . . . it's hard to find a parking place on the campus — day or night.

INSURANCE — Centenary has more than $2,000,000 worth of fire insurance . . . . also boiler, burglary, holdup, fidelity, public liability, property damage, workmen's compensation, social security, group life and hospitalization, retirement annuities, windstorm, elevator . . .

ELECTRICITY does lots of the work at Centenary . . . it keeps the books, writes pay roll checks, types and duplicates letters, starts and stops classes . . . raises and lowers the movie screen, operates the movies, amplifies chapel talks . . . records foreign language classes, checks workers in and out, addresses alumni mail, adds, multiplies, divides, puts postage on mail and seals it, runs our saws, planes, shapers . . . waxes floors, operates the link trainer, cleans venetian blinds, cools and chops the food, peels potatoes, slices meat, washes dishes, cools the water, tells what time it is, mixes malts, cools the rooms, plays our records, welds gutters, keeps burglars away, makes keys, runs the elevators (we have two), records when workmen arrive and leave . . . turns the floodlights on and off . . .

HOUSEKEEPING — Centenary is trying to improve its housekeeping. You'd be surprised to know how much indoor and outdoor space there is to look after — acres of grass to mow, hedges to trim, thousands of square feet of classroom and office space, faculty houses, veterans' houses, dormitories, three warehouses, the Dodd campus, several lots throughout the city to mow, floodlights to replace, steps, new screens, gutters to unstop, roof leaks to repair, dozens of apartments with all sorts of minor troubles, fuses blowing out, window sash to replace, motors to oil, electric fans, attic fans, exhaust fans to service — paper towels, soap, garbage, trash — dead trees to remove . . . We buy brooms and mops by the gross, soap by the barrel, floor sweep by the ton . . . carpenter work, plumbing, electrical, painting . . .

FINANCES — Centenary has endowment funds, building funds, operating funds, agency funds, loan funds, student activities, stocks, bonds, royalties, real estate, timber land, rental property . . . Our accounting chart of accounts is the length of a Master's Essay . . . the books show what is going on as it happens . . . an outside auditor audits the books after each May 31 . . . the college granted 196 scholarships last year . . . some partial — some complete . . . to ministers, children of ministers and faculty, employees, valedictorians, achievement winners in high schools, foreign students, musicians, athletes . . . Pay day for teachers is the 25th . . . Bonuses were paid all employees in 1946, 1947, 1948 . . . The Haynes bequest will increase the operating income of the college by something like $80,000 a year . . . the college had $865,000 endowment before this bequest . . . endowment earnings run about 5%.

AT NIGHT ON THE CAMPUS — Almost every classroom is in use each night . . . in other buildings you may find square dancing, dramatics, productions, choir, band, basketball, debating, movies, division meetings, sorority and fraternity sessions, religious groups . . . Carrying the big punch clock from station to station is the night-watchman in policeman's uniform — the night janitors, waxing, singing, sweeping, mopping . . Bryant and Tip Davidson driving in with canoe atop their Mercury . . . Paul Nolan returning from a late publicity assignment . . . . Dean Hardin watering his St. Augustine . . . faculty children on their bikes . . . dormitory dates returning from the movies . . . a bookkeeper looking for that one cent error he couldn't find that afternoon . . . students burning the midnight oil . . . pre-medics laboring in laboratories . . .

PUBLICATIONS — 5,000 catalogues each year . . . night school bulletins and announcements, speaker's bureau pamphlets, newsletters, This Is Centenary, the weekly newspaper, the Conglomerate, the Yearbook, student handbooks, magazine articles, news articles for in-town and out-of-town . . . special brochures . . .

THIS AND THAT — Centenary operates a nursery school and has grandparents in day and evening classes . . . and on a moment's notice can send some one to make a rung for an antique chair or to help retrieve junior's kite, kill wasps, rats, or capture a swarm of bees . . . send out a speaker to address a club, fill a pulpit, or someone to perform a marriage or officiate at a funeral . . . to carry on special research for local industries . . . The Choir has just returned from a twelve day trip to Atlantic City and New York City . . . our "singing ambassadors" really get around . . . rumor is they're going to Mexico City next year . . . In addition to the BAGLES, there is lots of friendliness on Centenary's Campus . . . at the Snack Bar at ten till you will find students, faculty, administration and staff having coffee together or just chatting . . .

Your ALMA MATER is growing . . . it is already a rather large BUSINESS INSTITUTION . . . the increasing support of its ALUMNI is appreciated . . .

BAGLE REPORT Volume II, Number 7

Over 2,000 Linear Feet Laid

Ridding the campus of BRICKS and BAGLES has turned out to be a popular project with alumni, students, faculty, and Shreveporters.

The 2,120 linear feet of bagle-proof walks which have been laid up to November 13 provide safe footing to many of the buildings on the campus.

You Ought To See The Chain Reaction

When the concrete walks were laid they were placed higher than the old brick walks. This made it necessary to fill in on the sides with new dirt. To hold the dirt a strip of sod had to be planted. To hold the sod and dirt a little grading had to be done. To hold the grading, more sod and seeds had to be planted. DRAINAGE pipes had to be provided, but the pipes looked bad near the new walks, the new dirt, and the new grading, so the pipes were put under ground. This left an ugly filled-in place, which had to be sodded. The area between this sod and the strip near the walks then looked bad, so more planting had to be done in between.

The RESULT — the campus is beginning to look better.

St. Augustine Grass

Since sod had to be brought in where none had been, we decided to use St. Augustine. Leonard Riggs, alumnus landscaper of note and of Longview, had the answer.

On Friday morning, November 9, a man in Bay City, Texas, had a beautiful front yard. On Saturday morning, November 10, Centenary had 250 yards of the prettiest St. Augustine you ever saw.

Tuileries Gardens

An eighth Wonder of the World is not in the making, but the campus will look better near the SUB — Jackson Hall — Dramatics Workshop — Rotary area.

Our engineering class is making a topog map of this area for Leonard who is drawing up a design for the Bagle Fountain.

Bagle Fount In Sunken Garden

In front of the SUB (north) is an area which Leonard proposes to make into a beautiful sunken garden. (We've sunk the Bagles, so why not sink the garden?) There'll be a wall, a patio, a fountain with Bob Bagle atop, a bird bath, a 15 foot pool, Yoncopins in the pool, shrubs, flowers, tables and chairs.

And Here's The Catch

This beautiful permanent sunken garden - fountain - pool will not be free. There will be concrete walks around it and leading to it. And in these walks we will inscribe the names of the special donors to the fountain.

This garden will be THE beauty spot of the campus. We hope to have it completed in time for HOMECOMING.

From NOW on we want to use a part of the sidewalks contributions for the garden site and nearby. Donor's names will be imprinted in the walks around the garden, but you won't get quite as many feet per dollar. OK? BUT your name will be in the walks leading to and around THE beauty spot of Shreveport.

A Fair Incident

At the State Fair we had an alumni register book and the BAGLE nearby. A colored girl asked the attendant, "Is this where I registers to win one of them BANGLES?"

* * * *

CENTENARY'S CAMPUS is a natural for beautifying. An outside committee is working on a long-range program of beautification. The sidewalks and the sunken Bagle Sunken Garden will make a good start toward helping the committee.

* * * *

Our February issue of THIS IS CENTENARY will be largely personals, so, please send us information on yourself, your family.

If you adjust your bi-focals slightly you may be able to see a BAGLE warning sign or two and also some of the stock of St. Augustine grass which was unloaded in convenient places.

Can you recall how this area looked up to six weeks ago? Needless to say, it was not included in Shreveport's annual garden tour. But — someday —— well -- who can tell?

IN SYMPATHY

The Alumni Association lost one of its most loyal members on November 10 when Lloyd C. Clanton, '28, passed away after a brief illness.

We express our sincerest sympathy to Mrs. Thelma Wardlow Clanton, the children, and to Mrs. T. C. Clanton.

"IN MEMORY OF"

Contributions Increasing

Each week we receive contributions to the Bury-the-Bagle fund with the request that the walk be dedicated to some loved one who has passed away.

We are happy to imprint such two-line inscriptions.

May, '52 is the deadline on this project — but we need part of your contribution NOW. . .

Our goal — to print the entire mailing list in the concrete.

MAY 3 HOMECOMING DAY MAY 3

WE CAN DREAM, CAN'T WE ?

Below is reproduced a letter we would like to receive

Dear Alumni Association:

From the Atkins Gateway straight through to the science building is the architectural and landscaping axis of the campus - the gateway, the flagpole, the St. Augustine grass, the formal garden, the E. A. Frost Memorial fountain, the outdoor theater, the ravine, the winding stairways, the science building. What a dream setting for beauty!

Thousands of people miss this view because one frame building blocks it. The Dramatics Workshop (old chapel) is well constructed, it has good lines, it is just the right size for a little theater, it is air-conditioned, but it is right in the center of the axis. So let's move it and brick veneer it and give it a new front.

I am enclosing my checks for $25,-000 and $10,000. If the first check is sufficient then use the second one for helping to beautify the area. Shreveport citizens are entitled to see what is becoming a most beautiful and attractive campus.

Yours very truly,

Dreamed but not signed

AN ELECTRIC CLOCK and sprinkler system will insure proper watering of the formal garden.

BABY SITTERS for Saturday night will be furnished by the Home Economics department.

IF NO HAIL Leonard Riggs promises us 4,500 blooming flowers in the garden for Homecoming.

HOMECOMING DAY is Saturday, May 3.

Registration — Beginning at 9:00 a. m.

Alumni meeting — 3:30 p. m.
- Election of officers
- Induction of 1952 Senior Class
- Band concert
- Choir concert

Campus tours — Refreshments.

Henry Busse and his orchestra — 8:00 p. m. - 12.

TUNE IN KWKH each Monday night at 9:45 o'clock to hear the Centenary College Choir. The program is sponsored by the Southwestern Gas and Electric Company.

MR. GEORGE D. WRAY, SR., member of the Board of Trustees, paid us a visit recently. We always enjoy having a Board member come to see us.

Is YOUR NAME in the sidewalks? New walks leading to the formal garden will be laid within the next few days. It is not too late to imprint your name or an "In Memory of."

SOUTHERN BUILDERS, INC. who built the new science building and the Atkins gateway are doing the fountain and formal garden. We're so glad to have them in charge. Bill Hogan, J. C. Roberts, Thomas B. Jacobs, Hugh Werdeman, and their co-workers are showing a personal interest in the project. Every detail is going to be just right.

DE-SHACKING crew vies with DE-BAGLERS. The two frame buildings just East of the old chapel (now the Dramatics Workshop building) were torn down recently by Mr. Sutton and his crew. The nursery school moved to better quarters at 2901 Woodlawn, the college got much valuable lumber, and the area now can be beautified.

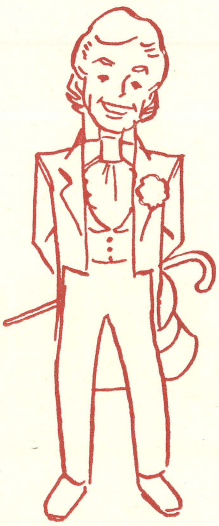
Homecoming Plans Announced

This Gentleman Says . . . On May 3rd the Home-Coming Agenda Will Be:



9:00 A. M. - 5:00 P. M. Registration in the Student Union Building.

3:30 P. M. Alumni Meeting in the Open Air Theater. Election of officers and induction of the 1952 Senior Class. Edwin Whited, Presiding

4:15 P. M. Immediately after the Alumni Meeting . . . dedication of the Frost Memorial Fountain.

4:45 P. M. Open House in the SUB with the Centenary Women's Club serving refreshments.

Last week President Whited appointed the following committee to nominate Alumni officers for the coming year.....Rev. Leonard Cooke, Chairman and James J. Serra, Mrs. Frank Boydston and Gilbert Hetherwick. They have presented the following slate of Officers:

President: George M. Hearne, III

First Vice-President: Camp Flournoy

Second Vice-President: Mrs. Ogburne Rawlinson (Shirley Baird)

Secretary: Mrs. James J. Serra (Mary Catherine Arthur)

Treasurer: Jake Hanna

Directors: 1952 - 1954
Edwin F. Whited
Betty Goldstein
Lawrence May
Betty Blaxton
W. W. Bynum

The Great Day — May 3 — is coming closer and closer. The workmen are busy with details on the Frost Memorial Fountain...the goldfish are getting anxious to return to their new home after a brief stay last week before more stonework removed them to temporary quarters... the Student Senate Committee is meeting to discuss decorations for the dance...the nursery school-baby sitting headquarters are organizing forces to take care of the future Centenary students who will be visiting Homecoming Day ...folks are working toward the arrival of May 3...and we want you to come.

Tie a string around your finger and remember to mail that card today. We have heard from Louisiana, Arkansas, Texas, Pennsylvania, Minnesota, Oklahoma, and Florida.

Did you forget to mail the card?

The theme of Homecoming this year is Campus Beautification and it is an appropriate one indeed. The jonquils on Centenary Boulevard are blooming, the hyacinths have brightened the corner where they are and on THE DAY there will be a formal dedication of the Frost Memorial Fountain. Come out and see the names in the sidewalk. See for yourself all the improvements you have helped to make on the Home Front.

At an alumni luncheon last week on the campus some 29 alumni returned to review the plans for May 3. They are all coming back for the alumni meeting, the open house, the dance and just to visit. By the way, did you forget to mail the card?

All former Maroon Jackets are asked to make a mental note to register at the special table in the SUB on Saturday. The dormitories, the fraternity and sorority houses and the buildings of the college will be open for inspection on THAT DAY, too.

Seen on the campus regularly last week was one Bagle Hunter Dr. S. D. Morehead. He's driving the car now and really looks well. Says he thinks he'll drop by the campus THAT AFTERNOON of MAY 3 to look things over.

HOMECOMING IS A' COMIN'

THE DAY IS IN SIGHT

This is a photo of the Frost Memorial Fountain taken early in April and featured in the May issue of the Shreveport Magazine. The landscape architect has promised more and much lovelier flowers by May 3.

Could you but change into the invisible fairy and make your daily visit to the college campus about this time, you would truly be impressed at the things which you would see, hear and witness. For proof positive:

Crepe paper is being cut and stapled and rolled in secret hide-aways in the Arts Building in anticipation of the Homecoming Decorations that will brighten the gymnasium on May number THREE.

The reservations for the Nursery School, Baby Sitting Department, are coming in steadily. If you want your youngsters to join the crowd of Centenary Alumni (year 1970) remember to send in that card today.

The hammers are banging, and the chips are flying in preparation of the decorations to beautify the SUB for the Open House and the registration that will take place there. The theme of campus beautification will be evidenced here. . .and those who know predict it will be a thing of beauty.

Delta Tau Omicron members and sponsors are issuing a special underlined and capitalized invitation for all of the former members of the Commerce organization to come by Science 115 from 9:00 - 12:00 on SATURDAY. Don't forget this. . .you commercial majors.

The former Maroon Jackets have been buzzing about getting together at the Maroon Jacket table in the SUB during the DAY on Saturday. There will be former Maroon Jackets there all during the day and it should be a special spot of interest to those of you who wore the Jacket while you were students at the college.

You'll be pleased to know that Doc Morehead is much improved and spends most of each day in the fountain area admiring, planning and watching those pretty little fish. Bet he'll come out with some scientific way of predicting from those little fellas when and how bass strike. Next will be a fishing magazine. Could be.

We have a special order placed with the weatherman for Saturday, May 3, for sunny skies and moderate temperatures. We would appreciate all the encouragement we can get on this situation. Grass, flowers, trees, bulbs, plants and the Homecoming committee add a special appeal to this important message.

Homecoming is a'coming. . . .of that we are sure. The thing we want to be sure of, too, is that you are coming on that date. Come and bring your friends. . .and your friends' friends. We want all of you to be there.

December, 1952 Volume IV, Number 1

1952 MERRY CHRISTMAS HAPPY NEW YEAR 1953

1952 is might nigh gone...1953 is only a calendar right now...BUT remember this — '53 is going to be a BIG year for Centenary.

For the Alumni Association '52 was the biggest year so far —— Many new sidewalks — hundreds of square feet of grass — terracing — shrubs, flowers, trees, bulbs — the E. A. Frost Memorial Fountain — the garden. What an appeal BEAUTIFICATION had, and STILL has! Through the alumni $20,000 was raised to beautify the campus . . . Hundreds of alumni participated . . . Some contributions came from abroad, others from former students and grads we hadn't heard from in years; some from friends who had not been students; and contributions continue to come in every week . . .

IN OCTOBER your officers announced BEAUTIFICATION would be the 1953 project and that $1500 would be needed before Christmas to take care of things which had to be planted in November and December. We already have the $1500 — it came in amounts ranging from $1 to $500, from ex-students in hospitals, abroad, in the armed services, and from those who already had contributed. SO WE REALLY DO NOT NEED ANY MORE MONEY UNTIL JANUARY, 1953 (Except see page 3).

THAT'LL DO FOR '52

We do not need any more money in '52— except ONE check for $2,000. (See page 3)

Our '52 drive really was over in May and was quite successful.

We did need $1,500 this fall to pay for December plantings and we have that amount on hand.

So, have a real Happy Holiday Season and we will be writing you in '53.

P. S. Any checks received in December will be deposited for use in the January-May beautifying.

Suggested New Year's Resolution—"I will visit the Centenary Campus oftener."

In January and February we hope to plant some TREES and more shrubs — 3 additional rosebeds — holly hedges instead of the old privet set out by SWEDE ANDERSON in the early twenties. We need more grass and top soil — more terracing — more fertilizer — more contributions January-May.

Our grass plantings and fertilizing already are showing good results on the campus trees —they are healthier looking.

After January we will need lots of small contributions and some large ones for we GO as we PAY.

Our BEAUTIFICATION project will need to grow and grow as the college grows.

Cal Hubbard was chosen by Grantland Rice to be on the all-time all American football eleven. Cal is a contributor to our BEAUTIFICATION fund. In fact, an all Centenary eleven could be selected from the names imprinted in our sidewalks — the names include a graduate of the class of 1892 and up to the class of 1970.

The February issue of This Is Centenary will feature pictures of alumni babies. Please help.

The Thanksgiving holidays brought many a visiting alum campuseeing. Some of them were: John Dehn, 52, a graduate chemistry assistant at Texas Tech....Glen Hilburn, '51, a chemist with the Ethyl Corporation, Baton Rouge. He is scheduled to enter the Baptist Theological Seminary at Fort Worth on January 1 to study for the ministry....Reesie Timmons, '51, seen at the basketball games....Ann Warren will receive her degree in petroleum engineering from U. of O. soon....Evan Campbell, '50 (U. S. Navy) glad to be home from Korea, and not so glad to be returning....Henry Shuey in with his brother, Arthur, looking up addresses in the alumni office....Howard Galliher, after several years in South America, is back in the states....

Dr. Entrikin recently attended ACS regional meets in Baton Rouge and at Little Rock where he read a paper....Sybil Durbin in now Mrs. Fred Waldrop....Jimmy Waugh, USAF, soon will take as his bride Ann Roberts....William Stewart Harwell, Jr., grandson of Dr. and Mrs. John B. Entrikin, will observe his first birthday in Detroit on December 4. His mother is the lovely titian blond—Jean Marie....Brady and Carol Forman are proud parents. Rebecca was born on November 18....Sam and Wini Peters have a new and larger home in Broadmoor, at 348 Atlantic Avenue....Wayne Alfred is Centenary's new student photographer. Papa Milburne and Mamma Nell, as well as Aunt Jean, help out when tests pile up!....Mary Jeff Middlebrooks will become Mrs. Guy Thomas Ashworth soon....Maida Mickle III of Houston recently visited her grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. Mickle....Tom Richardson is still "sweating" it out in Kodiak, Alaska. He is scheduled for release in April.....

THIS I BELIEVE

By JOE J. MICKLE

President of Centenary College

EDITOR'S NOTE: President Mickle's This I Believe was chosen as one of the one hundred living philosophies of thoughtful men and women recently published in book form and now on sale by Simon and Schuster, New York. Edward R. Murrow provides the Foreword for the Book, This I Believe. We acknowledge our thanks to Help, Inc. for permission to reprint President's Mickle's article.

I must plead guilty to being an optimist — a long range optimist. I like to view human progress in centuries rather than in years. I do not believe progress is automatic, nor does my optimism relieve me of a sense of urgency in working for human betterment; but a long, backward glance at the human races always reassures me.

This means that I am enthusiastic about life. Henry Chester has said, "Enthusiasm is the greatest asset in the world. It is nothing more or less than faith in action."

The most difficult person for me to understand is one who is bored; yet each day I encounter those who seem dead to the glamour and challenge of life. Life has so many sides that I cannot imagine why it should ever appear tedious or uninteresting. I'd like nine lives, each in a different activity.

In Peking I once saw a sign near the railway station which read, "Your baggage forwarded in all directions." To me, life is so interesting that enthusiasm has come naturally and I've wanted to run off in a lot of directions all at once. Fortunately, my work has been big enough to merit my full enthusiasm. This is my "faith in action."

But for me, optimism and enthusiasm can be deeply rooted and continuous only if they spring from an inner sense of the presence of God and faith in His spirit at work in the world. The 139th Psalm is my inspiration, for it expresses this faith: "Oh, Lord, thou hast searched me and known me— Though I take the wings of the morning and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea, even there shall thy hand lead me." This faith makes life more orderly and simple, yet more complete.

Thankfulness, too, is my "faith in action." I am thankful for past generations which have paid the price of human progress. I try not to take them for granted. To those who through much suffering have brought us greater freedom, broader visions and better living conditions, I feel undying gratitude. I like to turn back the hands of time to study their lives and struggles. Also, I am thankful to those of my generation, particularly to those of talents different and greater than mine, who have picked up where others left off and are carrying on toward that "far-off, divine event toward which all creation moves."

But the spirit of thankfulness to my own and past generations cannot be complete without frequently lifting the fact upward simply to say, "Thank You, God." In fact, with me at least, it is here that the spirit of thankfulness finds its first expression. From there I want it to flow outward toward my fellow men of whatever race, color, creed or talent.

I knew a four-year-old girl in Japan who, at the end of a wonderful day of play with her American and Japanese friends, asked permission to say her evening prayers in her own words. Then she said, "Thank You, God, for a pleasant day," hesitated a moment while she thought what should come next, then in complete sincerity added, "I hope You've had a good time too."

That prayer implies that if thankfulness is genuine it must be linked to life's actions. It is thankfulness which says to God, "I hope that this day my actions have brought You only pleasure."

All we want for Christmas is one check for $2,000.00

December 1952

PAY TO THE ORDER OF CENTENARY COLLEGE ALUMNI FOUNDATION $ 2,000.00

Two thousand and NO/100 - DOLLARS

TO: Beautify the campus front on Centenary Boulevard from the Atkins Entrance to Colonial Hall, and to complete the job begun last year, on down to King's Highway.

This check would make possible:

Another rosebed to match the one south of the entrance.
6 Live Oak trees.
380 linear feet of cement walk.
380 linear feet of Bufordi holly hedge to replace the privet.
999 linear feet of Crepe Myrtles (spaced 30 feet apart all the way to King's Highway).
999 linear feet of St. Augustine grass planted in the neutral zone.
Sprinkler system for the holly shrubs, Crepe Myrtles, trees, and grass.

— The 1953 Centenary College Alumni News-Letter —

Volume V, Number 1

1953 MERRY CHRISTMAS HAPPY NEW YEAR 1954

We Were Right Once

In the News-Letter for last Christmas we said: "'53 is going to be a BIG year for Centenary." It was and the year has not passed yet.....TWO dormitories now under construction....Leonard Cooke, '36, was named Vice-President and Treasurer, Carl Wilkinson, Business Manager, Webb Pomeroy, '44, Director of Religious Life on Campus....All three are doing excellent jobs.....

Beautification of the campus has continued as an alumni project.....Hundreds of King Alfreds, tulips, caladiums, a number of shrubs, periwinkles, live oaks, dogwoods, more grass....Topsoil and fertilizer....The grounds crew under Paul Morse take great pride in keeping everything in tip-top shape...Mrs. D. P. Hamilton, Mrs. George M. Hearne, Jr., Mrs. Mark Burgess gave us some very fine bulbs...The college installed some sprinklers and planted quite a bit of St. Augustine.....

Woodlawn Is Next

The Woodlawn side of the campus is next on the agenda. Mr. J. D. Caruthers and his Beautification Committee have several projects about ready to go....Grading of the Woodlawn area is through the generosity of the T. L. James Company of Ruston.....After the grading will come sprinklers, topsoil, fertilizing and sodding....

Our Next Issue

In the February issue of This Is Centenary we will FEATURE Centenary's oldest living ex-student. He LEFT Centenary in 1870 (the year Charles Dickens died)... He celebrated his 100th birthday last August....We have his picture, a story on his experiences at Old Centenary, and a personal letter from him.....A story on Jimmie Welsh, '31, Municipal Manager of Teaneck, New Jersey ....Also it's about time for some more baby pictures. Please send them in.....We plan to give you also a look-see at Lt. Bill Bowen and Miss Hideko Sekiya in Tokyo ....Choo-choo, where were you when the picture was made?.....

325 — Trees — 325

Soon you can have a tree planted on the campus in memory of a loved one or in your own name.....The need is for 325 trees—many types—to replace those which have died and to add more beauty here and there..... Names will be inscribed on or near each tree donated....

Another Missionary

Centenary's alumni mailing list to missionaries in the foreign field increases by one with this issue of the News-Letter. Miss Frances Way, '50, of Marques, Texas, is among 34 young college graduates who sailed recently for missionary work under sponsorship of the Methodist Church. Frances sailed from the West Coast for Malaya. She was employed as secretary at First Church in Texarkana for three years. At Centenary she was active in the MSM, National Honor Society, and the life service group. Her address is 12 Young Road, Kuala, Lumpur, Malaya.

Remember?

About two years ago we said, "Who knows! Centenary campus someday may be listed on the itinerary of the annual Garden Tour of Shreveport"....Don't forget! Because it may come true....Three years ago that prediction would have been quite difficult to believe.

Funny Thing — Those Grades, Or Are They?

In October your editor had three conversations about grades—all with a similar pattern.

(1) A long distance call from more than 1000 miles away. The former student (20 years ago) wanted his degree—what could he do now?..correspondence courses? ..to school there?..back to Centenary?..Grades and degrees did not seem as important then as now, but he is determined to get that degree, no matter what or how long it takes.

(2) A high school Senior came by the house—he wanted to go to A & M next year or to some big engineering school—but his grades were not up to the requirements for admission. What could he do?..Where could he go?..His father's business would be his someday, but he MUST have that college education. "Isn't there some college that will take me if I guarantee to make good grades from now on?"

(3) "My son is not making good grades in high school. He won't listen to me (his father), but I believe he would listen to you, if you would tell him he cannot enroll at any good college without good grades. If I will bring him by your home will you tell him?"

There are arguments of many kinds both pro and con. You may have had or be having a similar experience yourself or with your children....You may have a good answer for the problem. If so, write us and we will publish as many answers as we can.

TRUE OR FALSE

A few days ago your editor was looking over some material for this news-letter. . . . "I graduated from Centenary in 1882" . . . . An alumna had just sailed for missionary work in Malaya . . . . "I graduated from Centenary in 1903. My gradfather attended Centenary 100 years ago". . . . "I left Centenary in 1870". . . . Here was an alumnus with the marines in Tokyo. . . "Centenary College is located in Shreveport, La. . . . . ". . . . a question jumped right out from nowhere. . . . IS Centenary really in Shreveport? . . . Or is Shreveport rather the headquarters or the mailing address for Centenary? . . . .

The answer came from the same place the question had come from. . . . Centenary is WHERE her alumni are. . . . Centenary is the alumni minister in Louisiana. . . the lawyer in California. . . the chemist in New Jersey. . . the engineer in South Carolina. . . Centenary is the alumni accountant in Oklahoma. . . the housewife in New Orleans. . . the physician in Baton Rouge . . . the contractor in Ohio. . . Centenary is the alumni merchant in Illinois. . . the geologist in Mississippi. . . the missionary in the Orient. . . the farmer in Iowa. . . the student doing graduate work in the big University. . .

Centenary is WHAT her alumni are. . . mothers. . . fathers . . . citizens. . . what they are doing. . . in their communities, their businesses, their homes. . . their churches, their civic clubs, their government. . .

No, the answer continued, Centenary is not really in Shreveport only, but it is WHERE and WHAT her alumni are. . . "By their fruits. . . . . "

What kind of a college is Centenary? . . . Does Centenary merit your support? Should you send your children to Centenary? . . . You can find the answer by studying the alumni Centenary has turned out and is turning out each year. . . You can find Centenary in action in many states and foreign countries —in the pulpit. . the home. . the community. . the factory. . the farm. . the office building. . and. . . . in the hearts and minds and lives of the hundreds of graduates and former students who have come to love her. . . to understand her. . . and to bear her mark.

Vocations Project

The alumni office is attempting to secure information on the vocation of every graduate and ex-student. We need to know whether you are a lawyer, a Baptist minister, a dentist, a nurse, a physician, a farmer, a housewife, an oil man, or a chemist, etc. We will publish this information as soon as we compile it. A postal card from you is sufficient. We will appreciate your helping us secure complete and correct lists. If we omit your name or have an error in listing it, let us know.

Here are the contributors to Beautification since the last list was published a few weeks ago. (Since we wish to save postage, we do not mail out thank-you notes and receipts, so here is your thank-you.)
